WINE ESTATE
WILDEKRANS

The Keerweer title deed (portion 860) dates back to 1864, when the farm split from Rooihewel and which had, in turn, split from Compagniesdriif. The original buildings, including the site of the early wine cellar (current site of the Tasting Room) and The Restaurant, date to the 1860's, while the original concrete vats and kippers in the old cellar (built by Kannemeyer in the late 1920s) are still standing strong.

Later, the Keerweer farm would be renamed to what is known as Wildekrans Wine Estate.
